AN AFFLICTED PARIENT.

A SECOND JOB.

"Darby Dodd," a regular correspondent of the New York Metropolitan Record, in his quaint way, gets off more than semi-occasionally, most telling hits upon the follies and shortcomings of this degenerate age. The following is one of his last efforts:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25, 1868.

Editor Portfolio:—While I was sitting in the reading room of Willard's, this afternoon, thinking over a plan to save the country and protect Mr. Stanton from the persecution of unscrupulous enemies, a white-haired old gentleman came up to me, and said he understood I was a person of sympathetic nature. The first idea occurred to me was that he wanted me to get him an appointment; but the utter misery that was stamped on his face soon removed this unworthy thought, and filled me with deep pity.

I informed him that some one had told him the truth, which is a very remarkable thing in Washington, and he then said he had a tale to tell that would probably harrow up my soul.

"What is it about, my venerable friend?" said I to the old gentleman; and he answered briefly but sorrowfully:

"It is a tale of family disgrace."

"Pray, sir," I said, "don't pain yourself by repeating family troubles to me; I am at present engaged in considering more important matters. The very life of the nation, sir, is in danger, and I am considering how to save it."

But the old gentleman would not be put off. He insisted on unfolding his tale, and taking his seat beside me he began as follows:

"I am the father of ten children."

I expressed my condolence, and he continued:

"Ten children, sir, and I did all I could to bring them up in the way of virtue and honor."

"And I trust they are a comfort and support to you in your old age," said I.

"Ah, sir, they have been a curse to me. Look at these grey hairs! Look at the furrows of care upon my face! My children, oh, my children!"

I became interested, and told the old gentleman to proceed.

"My first great grief," said he, composing himself, "was caused by my eldest son. He was a young man of fine promise, and I had him educated for the Church. He became a minister. His sermons were the wonder of our section. He married an excellent girl and lived happily with her. His Christian zeal knew no bounds. He established a Sabbath school, and started the greatest revival movement ever known in the West. It gladdened my heart to see my son devoting himself so earnestly to holy work. But a blow came, a terrible blow. In the midst of the revival he eloped with one of the Sabbath school teachers and left his wife and children on my hands."

I said that it was a great blow, indeed, and the old gentleman went on:

"About this time my second son, a young man of excellent talents and character, held a responsible position in a bank in New York. I was proud of him, sir, and I looked forward to the time when he would be one of the foremost bankers in the metropolis. But there was another blow coming. One day I received a letter from the President of the bank informing me that my son was a defaulter, that he had embezzled $200,000 and started for Europe with a waiter girl from one of the concert saloons."

"That was dreadful," said I.

"Yes, sir, it was a great disgrace, but not the worst. Another son settled in Chicago and became a gambler. He associated with the most disreputable persons, pugilists, blacklegs, thieves, and went down step by step until he finally connected himself with a gift enterprise for the relief of soldiers and sailors. Oh, how my heart bled when I heard how low he had descended!"

"No wonder, sir, it was fearful."

"It was fearful, sir, but I bore it as well as I could. My fourth son was educated for the bar. He was admitted to practice, and soon became a rising man. But the evil star was over him, too. He became a drunkard. He lost all self-respect, but still he had clients. One of them was a widow with six orphans. She retained him in an important property case. It involved a fortune. He assured her he would gain it, and he did. He gained the case, sir, and pocketed every dollar of the money himself. Then he became more and more dissipated, and was at last found dead in a common bar-room in St. Louis."

"Poor man, your sorrows are very great! That blow was shocking."

"Oh, it is terrible, sir; but there was worse to come. My second daughter, a beautiful girl, married a young merchant. They seemed to be very happy. Four children blessed their union—lovely children, the image of their parents. Fanny's husband doted on her; he thought she doted upon him. But she deceived him. One evening when he went home she was absent. She did not return that night. He was distracted. Next day one of his clerks was absent. He made inquiries, and learned that they had eloped. When the news came to me it almost broke my heart.."

"Shocking, shocking!" I observed; but without heeding my interruption, the old man continued:

"Sarah, my third daughter, was always a foolish girl, full of romantic notions, and fond of reading novels. A month after Fanny's marriage she ran away with a traveling tinker and came back in less than a year in rags. Poor Sarah! I could not blame her much, for she was unsteady; but the disgrace almost killed her mother."

"No wonder, sir; it might well have bowed your head, too."

"It did, sir, it did; but I bore it. I had to bear much more. My fourth son joined the army, and as he was good at praying, they made him chaplain. Then he took charge of the mails of his regiment, and looked after the correspondence of the men. But he fell. He was detected opening letters sent to the soldiers and taking money out of them, and the Colonel had him drummed out of camp."

"And you survived that?"

"Yes, and much more. These disgraces were terrible; but I could have borne them. The greatest of all was to come. I had another daughter, a giddy young creature, and though I am her father, I may say she was handsome. She was fond of dancing, going to the circus, and all that. One day she was missing, and we searched high and low for her, but she could not be found. One of our neighbors went to New York, and while there he went to see the Black Crook. Oh, sir, it was sad news he brought home. One of the girls he saw on the stage was our Julia. We tried to break the news to her mother, but it was too much for her. She sunk under it and died, and her [illegible] three weeks ago."

I buried [illegible] greatest disgrace indeed."

"That was the [illegible] but no, the greatest is still untold. My [illegible]fth son, Frank, became a pugilist, and is now traveling through the country as a prize fighter, associating with roughs and pick-pockets, and making my old heart wring with shame whenever I hear his name."

"Your hair may well be gray after that."

"Worse than that—far worse. I have not mentioned my eldest daughter. She joined a missionary society and was appointed treasurer. One day she disappeared, and the money in her hands has never been found. The minister of the town she lived in, was missed at the same time, and two months after I heard of them in Cincinnati. I then lost track of them, and did not again hear of Penelope until last week, when I learned that she had joined the Mormons, and was the tenth wife of a scoundrel in Utah."

"Good heavens, sir! how can you bear such shame as all this?"

Shame! ah, sir, these are trifles to the last and greatest shame!"

"The last and greatest? Surely there can be no lower depth of infamy than you have told me of?"

"There is! there is!" said the old man with a horrible groan. "My sixth and youngest son was elected to Congress, and is now sitting in that marble building at the other end of the avenue."

The old man's head fell upon the table, and I left him to weep over this terrible disgrace.

Yours sympathetically,

DARBY DODD.

MR. GOUGH'S RECOVERY.—The following incident is worthy of being often repeated, as an encouragement to labor for moral or religious reform. A warm heart and wise tongue may overcome the most formidable obstacles. Rev. T. L. Cuyler tells the story:

'On a certain Sabbath evening, some twenty years ago, a reckless ill dressed young man was idly lounging under the elm-tress in the public square of Worcester. He had become a wretched waif on the current of sin. His days were spent in the waking remorse of the drunkard; his nights were passed in the buffooneries of the ale house.

'As he sauntered along, out of humor with himself and with all mankind, a kind voice saluted him. A stranger laid his hand on his shoulder, and said, in cordial tones: 'Mr. G—, go down to our meeting at the town-hall to-night.' A brief conversation followed, so winning in its character that the reckless youth consented to go. He went; he heard the appeals there made. With tremulous hand he signed the pledge of total abstinence. By God's help he kept it, and keeps it yet. The poor boot crimper who tapped him on the shoulder—good Sol Stratton—has lately gone to heaven. But the youth he saved is to-day the foremost of reformers on the face of the globe. Methinks, when I listen to the thunders of applause that greet J. B. Gough on the platform of Exeter Hall or the Academy of Music, I am hearing the echoes of that tap on the shoulder, and of that kind invitation under the ancient elms of Worcester! 'He that winneth souls is wise."

POTATO PUDDING.—With a pound and a quarter of fine mealy potatoes boiled very dry and mashed perfectly smooth while hot, mix three ounces of butter, five or six of sugar, five eggs, a few grains of salt and the grated rind of a lemon. Pour the mixture into a well-buttered dish and bake in a moderate oven three-quarters of an hour. When done sift some sugar on it.

A LITTLE-girl in Bangor, last Sunday, astonished her Sunday-school teacher with "Blessed are the dress-makers,"

AN APOLOGY FOR DRUNKENNESS.

Thereby Showing its Good and Bad Effects.

Drunkenness has a legal and patriotic tendency; because drunkards pay their debts according to law and furnish abundant employment for lawyers and sheriffs, justices and constables; and they also support the government generously, by paying more excise than any other class of citizens.

Drunkenness promotes liberty and equality; because it disposes the subjects of it to spurn all restraint human and divine; and brings down the proudest gentleman to a perfect level with the greatest ruffian; and renders their company equally agreeable and entertaining, as they are equally disposed to pour out a deluge of nonsense, billingsgate and blasphemy.

Drunkenness promotes legal science; because drunkards obtain an interesting knowledge of criminal jurisprudence, and a number of them study the penal statutes in those legal seminaries, commonly called jails and penitentiaries.

Drunkenness promotes domestic government; for if you follow a drunkard home, you will find him raging and foaming; blaspheming and abusing his patient, industrious and miserable wife and children, who stand before him with fear and trembling, horror and anguish, as silent as the grave and as submissive as the slave chained to the car.

Drunkenness is subservient to orthodoxy and virtue; because drunkards demonstrate the doctrine of human depravity and degradation by arguments the most convincing and unanswerable; and they display vice in an attitude and dress the most odious and disgusting.

Drunkenness promotes religion in general, and humanity in particular; because some men have no religion until they obtain a stiff grog, and their retil they obta[illegible] proportion to the ligion increases in [illegible] may imbibe, quantity of spirits they become so extremely religious and humble, as to wallow in the mud along with the hogs, for the edification of the spectators.

Drunkenness circumscribes the agency of the prince of darkness; because his infernal majesty, from long experience, has so much confidence in drunkards that they will directly, or indirectly, render their families as miserable as possible, that he seldom interferes in the business. And whenever a drunkard appears in any company, the demon on duty puts on his hat and leaves the room, as his presence is no longer necessary.

Finally, drunkenness prevents testamentary obligations and funeral mourning; because drunkards generally live their own heirs and die their own executors, and leave the world with the consent of their friends and neighbors.

Done in behalf of the thirsty, by their attorney in fact.

THE NEED OF A FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.—We give the following article from the Richmond Enquirer as illustrating the need of a Freedmen's Bureau in the South. The incident is, we suppose, one of ten thousand similar ones, of daily occurrence in that section:

A gentleman from one of the neighboring counties, who desired to obtain a number of able-bodied negro laborers for his plantation, visited Richmond to procure them, having learned that there were hundreds of unemployed blacks lounging idle about the city.—The morning after his arrival he was directed to one of the localities where large quantities of bread and soup are daily distributed by the Freedmen's Bureau. He found a ragged, hungry horde, of nearly five hundred persons, assembled to receive the usual supplies of food. To his astonishment, these applicants for soup and bread were not all women and children. He counted one hundred and eight able-bodied negro men, capable of preforming every variety of farm labor. There they were with every conceivable variety of vessel, waiting hours to be fed by the Bureau. To many of these hulking idlers he offered the highest wages paid to agricultural laborers, and abundant rations of good, wholesome food. But they all refused to enter his service, alleging among other reasons, that they were fed by the Bureau, and did not wish by leaving Richmond to forfeit their right to vote.

LEAP YEAR.—The year 1868 is Leap Year, as possibly some of our readers have already discovered. This is the year of great privilege to the girls, bless them; a year of Jubilee, to all those poor, pining creatures whose very souls have gone out in love, for years past, after some "great hateful man," and all to no purpose. Now, girls, is your chance; this is the day of your deliverance, or at least it may be within the present year. Be up and doing—be active and energetic—and don't trifle away the day of grace—don't neglect your blessed privilege. You have the right to "pop the question" to any male biped your please, and he won't dare say nay. Then we say, crack it to them. Confound their tardy skins, if they won't propose while they have the right to do so, you teach them a lesson that will be a warning for all time to come.

—The New Orleans Picayune thinks there will be comparatively little cotton planted this year in Louisiana.

A STRANGE CASE.—The New York Tribune says:

That justice follows strange courses sometimes we have a remarkable proof in the sequel to a criminal trial which lately created a great deal of excitement in England. Our readers may remember the case of a man named Watkins, who, having a quarrel with his sweetheart, stabbed her in thirteen places, and left her for dead in the fields. She lay all night in the open air, but finally recovered, and when the fellow's trial was about coming off, she forfeited her recognizances she had given as a witness and left the country in the hope that through her absence he might get off. It is satisfaction to know, however, that he was sentenced to twenty years' penal servitude. Now the poor girl comes back, is arrested for the amount of her bond, which neither she and nor her father has any means to pay, the other day she applied to the bankrupt court for relief. If she had been a reckless trades woman who had squandered the property of her creditors she might have got a discharge; but being only an unfortunate girl who loved the man that tried to murder her better than herself, she was remanded to jail; the Bankrupt act could not help her. Surely the enforcing of this debt to the crown is straining the law to the point injustice. There are cases in which the law ought to wink at its own violation.

ARTLESS SIMPLICITY.—One of the sweetest incidents which we have noticed for many a day—and one which shows the effect of early training, assisted by a pure and undefiled imagination. It is thus related: A lady visited New York city and saw on the sidewalk a ragged, cold and hungry little girl, gazing wistfully at some of the cakes in a show window. She stopped, and taking the little one by the hand, led her into the store. Though she was aware that bread might be better for the cold child than cake, yet desiring to gratify the shivering and forlorn one, she bought and gave her the cakes she wanted. She then took her to another place, where she procured her a shawl and other articles of comfort. The grateful little creature looked the benevolent lady full in the face, and with artless simplicity, said, "Are you God's wife?" Did the most eloquent speaker ever employ words to a better advantage?

JUDGE GRIFFITH, on the bench in New York, appointed a crier whose want of sense was more than made up by the size of his voice. A young barrister, with more fun than legal lore in him, was fond of playing off jokes on him. So one day the judge ordered the crier to call Jabez Logue. The barrister, stepping behind the crier, whispered, "Epilogue," in his ear.

"Epi-logue!" shouted the crier

"Mono-logue!" said the lawyer.

"Mono-logue!" cried the crier.

"Pro-logue."

And the crier still cried, "Pro-logue!"

"Dia-logue."

And the pertinacious crier shouted "Dia-logue!" at the top of his voice.

Discouraged at hearing no response from the Logue family, the crier turned to the Logue [illegible]et, sitting in mute astonishment at the st[illegible] old crier's calls: "I've called all the Log[illegible]s in town, and never one is here to speak [illegible] himself!"

IMPORTANT ADDITIONAL BOUNTY BILL.—The following is the additional bounty bill which has just been passed by both houses, and which now goes to the President:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That if any person or persons entitled to the bounty provided by sections 12 and 13 of the act making appropriations for the civil service approved July 28, 1668, shall have died, or shall die before receiving said bounty, it shall be paid to the heirs of the soldier, as designated in said act, in the order therein named, and to none other.

IN a town in Maine lived a man who, though yet in middle age, had put on the mourning for three wives. In the course of time a fourth was brought home, and in the course of her clearing up and putting things to rights she found in the attic a long piece of old board, and was about launching it out of the window, when little Sallie interposed and said:—Oh don't mama! that is the board papa lays out his wives on, and he wants to save it!" Nevertheless, out it went.

IF sheep are in a poor condition now, they must be gradually brought up; feed oats in the sheaf, a few daily, and some roots and good hay. Let all have the range of dry yards or fields, and warm sheds well ventilated.

SHORT AND SWEET.—"I can't speak in public; never done such a thing in all my life," said a chap the other night at a public meeting, who had been called upon to hold forth; "But if any body will speak for me, I'll hold his hat!"

A CERTAIN fop who was arguing with Diogenes on the immortality of the soul, asked him, "Now, where do you think I shall go after death?" "Wherever your tailor goes," was the reply.

A GENTLEMAN.—At a musical party asked a friend, in a whisper, "How shall I stir the fire without interrupting the music?" "Between the bars," replied the friend.

Friday Morning, February 28, 1868.

IMPEACHMENT!

Satan has at last sufficiently maddened his minions at Washington to induce them to attempt the removal of the President. Hell thrills with ecstacy as the announcement rings through its corridors. The fiends shout and laugh, for they scent blood and death in the upper air.

The infernal "Rump" of a Congress have impeached the President. The vote was taken at five o'clock on Monday last, and stood 135 for, to 47 against, impeachment. Yes, the Radical Rebels have resolved to remove the President!

WHY?

Because he stands by the Constitution and fulfils his oath to support and maintain that sacred instrument. Because they have undertaken to bind him hand and foot with unconstitutional legislation, and he dares to stand up for his rights. Because, forsooth, he chooses to appoint his own cabinet officers, as the Constitution authorizes him to do and as all other Presidents have done before him.

These devils incarnate, who would plunge the country into the bloodiest civil war that ever reddened the page of history, these hatchlings of the bats of the lowest hell, who subsist on the intensity of human misery, these tadpoles of the toads that feed in the slimiest holes of the bottomless pit, would take advantage of their own devilishness and thus drag down as their victim a true, honest and fearless MAN!

A law is passed, unconstitutional on its face, which affects the President alone. He prefers to keep his oath to support and defend the Constitution, rather than to break that oath by obeying this law. In other words, he refuses to regard this law as valid, and thus seeks to test its validity in the Courts. For this he is to be removed from office. Shall it be done? NEVER! NEVER! NEVER!

REVOLUTION!

The new rebellion against the Constitution, is rapidly culminating. The President is now threatened with immediate removal from office. Articles of impeachment have been presented in the lower house of Congress, by Thad. Stevens, and it is thought they will be adopted to-day (Monday, Feb. 24.) This new movement to depose the President, has arisen from an order issued on Friday last for the removal of the infamous Stanton from the War office and the appointment of Gen. L. Thomas (the Adjutant General of the Army) in Stanton's stead. The President sent the order for the removal of Stanton and the appointment of Gen. Thomas, to the Senate, and the General called upon Stanton and demanded possession of the War Department, when Stanton had him arrested. He was afterwards released on $5,000 bail. The whole thing in a nut shell amounts to this: The President is to be deposed because he desires to appoint his own Cabinet officers, as he has a right to do under the Constitution, and as all other Presidents have done before him. A pretty business, to be sure, to involve the country in tumult, and, probably, civil war, because the President of the United States wishes to choose his own Cabinet! We think we hear the outcry of the people thundering in the ears of the conspirators in Congress,

STOP!

We think we hear the piteous petition o women and children, of widows and orphans, going up to the pitiless cabal at Washington,

STOP!

We think we hear the merchants and mechanics, the farmers and laborers of the country, shout in the ears of the Radical fanatics,

STOP!

But will the voice of the people be heeded?

Will the desperate plotters in Congress cease their devilish machinations?

Is there any hope for a bloodless peace?

If not, then force must be met by force, revolution by revolution, and the Constitution and liberties of our country, must be maintained at all hazards.

THE RADICAL TEAM.

It was Munchausen, we believe, who told the "ower true tale" about a pack of wolves attacking the horses attached to a sledge, the wolves eating the horses as they ran, until they (the wolves) finally ate themselves into the harness, and taking the place of the horses, were thus driven to Moscow. This case found a parallel, some years ago, in some "wolves in sheep's clothing" whose savage attacks upon the "Republican" party resulted in their completely swallowing up the old wheel-horses of that party and getting themselves, body and breeches, into the harness of Radicalism. These creatures now run the Radical machine and are driven by the lash of their party masters, whithersoever their drivers list. They are, however, a troublesome team, as they cannot pass a single bone without snapping at it and quarreling over it, and would fain tear each other to pieces, did they not fear the crack of the party whip. Formerly they were tried in the Democratic wagon, but they snarled and growled so much at one another and at all about them, and their real character became so transparent, that they were distrusted and discarded. It is a little queer that our Radical friends still have hope of domesticating these greedy animals. If they are not permitted to gorge themselves with the fat things of the party, and at the same time to snap up all the little bones and crumbs as they go along, it will be impossible to make them "gentle." Feed them well, boys, or they will break the traces.

THE HAPPY FAMILY.

Quite a contest has been going on, for some time, in the Radical party of this county, between the several factions which compose that organization. The County Committee met on Tuesday of Court week to elect a delegate to the State Convention. The choice of this delegate, the question of the Vice Presidency, and the old fight between the clan Cameron and the gang Curtin, was re-opened with great energy and bitterness on both sides. Collector Ashcom acted as field-marshal for the Cameronians, whilst "little Johnny Sissney" commanded the forces of Curtin. The battle waxed hot and the carnage threatened to become fearful. But in the midst of the conflict a flag of truce appeared, with the proposition that both Grow (Cameron's man) and Curtin should be shelved, and instructions passed for E. M. Stanton. This was agreed to as a compromise, but the Cameronians were completely out-generaled in the election of Maj. D. Washabaugh as delegate, he being a Curtin man. W. M. Hall was Maj. Washabaugh's opponent, but was badly beaten. The contest, however, did not cease with the election of delegate to the State Convention. Hall and "Little Johnny" both want to serve their country as delegates to the Chicago Convention. As "Johnny" is a candidate for Congress, the friends of Hall very justly urge that the aforesaid "Johnny" is a little greedy, and ought to be taught to restrain his appetite. It remains to be seen whether poor Hall is again to be sacrificed. How thankful ought Democrats to be that they are not only rid of these ambitious disturbers of party harmony, but that the "Republican" organization has fallen heir to the troubles which they were wont to stir up in the ranks of the Democracy!

THE Mumbo-jumbo, Black-and-Tan, Moss-back, Carpet-bag Constitution made by Negroes and foreign adventurers for the people of Alabama, failed of adoption by about 12,000 votes. Under the Reconstruction acts, a majority of all the registered votes is required to ratify any of the Constitutions, framed by the Black Crook Conventions, and the whites nearly all staid away from the election in Alabama and thus defeated the patriotic labors of Wilson, Sumner & Co. Only 3,000 white votes were polled in the State. Although the negroes are in a large majority and the election was kept open for five days, Cuffee couldn't be brought to the scratch. He is still looking for "dem mules" promised him by "de Radical brudders" when he voted for "de Comwenshun."

THE President has appointed Maj. Gen. Lorenzo Thomas Secretary of War ad interim, that is to act until the Senate confirms the appointment of a permanent Secretary. He has just sent to the Senate the name of Gen. Thomas Ewing, of Ohio, an eminent soldier of the conservative school, for permanent Secretary of War. The Senate can take a run-and-jump at this soldier, if they choose.

THE Democrats carried the borough of Hollidaysburg on Friday last, by a majority of sixty-five. This is a gain of forty over the majority of last fall. The ball keeps moving.

AWAKE! ARISE!

Democrats, are you prepared for the Spring elections? The time for choosing township and borough officers is rapidly approaching, and the enemy are already organizing. Arouse, Democrats, and gird yourselves for the fight! Mark, an advantage gained now by the foe, has its effect, and, therefore, you must not permit them to gain any advantage. Make your nominations, and see that they are good ones. Let there be harmonious action. This is no time to quarl or higgle over small matters. Let us charge together and drive the enemy from their picket line.

THE PRESIDENT has appointed Gen. Geo. H. Thomas Lieutenant General by brevet and also General by brevet. Gen. Thomas at present commands the department of Tennessee. The President has also appointed Gen. Geo. B. McClellan Minister to England. This is a dose of epaulettes for the Senate. If that body chooses to put itself on the record against these "boys in blue," we shall begin to understand that Radicals don't care so much about soldiers after all.

THE Constitution provides that upon "impeachment and conviction of high crimes and misdemeanors," the President may be removed from office. Hence, the Senate will yet have to convict Mr. Johnson, before he can be removed from office.

THE NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The national democratic committee held a meeting in Washington on Saturday. Hon. August Belmont, of New York, presiding. After considerable debate, the committee agreed upon the city of New York as the place for holding the presidential nominating convention, and the 4th of July as the time. The only other action taken was an argument to give this announcement, accompained by an earnest invitation to all the opponents of radicalism to unite in this movement to select anti-radical candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States. The proceedings were harmonious, and the result, it is understood, meets the almost unanimous approval of the members of the committee.

THE NEW REBELLION!

Stanton Refuses to obey the Order of the President!

He arrests the Secretary of War appointed by the President!

The Congressional Rebels conspire to depose the President!

Great Excitement!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.

Yesterday the President issued an order removing Stanton from war office, and appointing Gen. L. Thomas, Adjutant General of the army, in his stead. Stanton refused to give up War office to Gen. Thomas and made affidavit before Justice Carter that Thomas had violated Tenure of office bill, by accepting office of Secretary of War. Judge Carter issued a warrant for Thomas' arrest. Thomas called on Stanton and demanded War office. Stanton declined and told him he would have him arrested, which was done this morning, he has since been released on $5,000 bail. Stanton still holds the office of Secretary.

Thad. Stevens to day presented impeachment bill, signed by all the Republican Congressmen, and there is no doubt but it will be put through.—Great excitement here and greater expected on Monday.

LATER.

WASHINGTON, February 22.—General Thomas immediately on his release, visited the President, and by his instruction went to the War Department and demanded the keys of the office in presence of Stanton, Grant, Howard, and others.

Nothing is known of the interview, but at this writing (12.30) General Thomas is still in the War Office.

MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT.—The Speaker laid before the House to-day the following correspondence:

War Department,
Washington City, Feb. 21, 1868.

Sir—General Thomas has just delivered to me a copy of the enclosed order, which you will please communicate to the House of Representatives.

Your obedient servant,
EDWIN M. STANTON,
Sec'y of War.

Hon. Schuyler Calfox, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Executive Mansion,
Washington, D. C. Feb. 21, 1868.

Sir—By virtue of power and authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and laws of the United States, you are hereby removed from office as Secretary of the Department of War, and your functions as such will terminate upon receipt of this communication.

You will transfer to Brevet Major General Lorenzo Thomas, Adjutant General of the army, who has this day been authorized and empowered to act as Secretary of War ad interim, all records, books, papers, and other public property now in your custody and charge. Respectfully, yours,

ANDREW JOHNSON, President.

To the Honorable Edwin M. Stanton, Washington, D. C.

FINANCIAL EFFECT OF THE WASHINGTON EXCITEMENT.—A special dispatch from Philadelphia to the Washington Express says:

Outside of stocks and gold gambling, fears are entertained that the unsettled state of the political horizon will act with damaging effect on the spring trade about to open. The President's intention of testing the constitutionality of the civil tenure bill in court is understood here by the thinking few, and they chuckle at the act of the radicals in Congress in convulsing the country. The reaction, it is thought, will be damaging to not a few of the over-ambitious gentlemen in the House.

PERIODICALS.

THE OLD GUARD FOR MARCH.—The above number of this sterling Democratic serial is one of the best yet issued. The contents are as follows: "Secrets Let Out of the Senate Chamber," by the editor. "Astorre Manfredi," a continuation of the Italian Historical Romance, translated expressly for THE OLD GUARD. "Dead Under the Roses," by Miss Nellie Marshall, "To Mary," by Mrs. Helen Rich. "State Sovereignty and Negro Suffrage." "O, Humbug." "Political Literature of America." "Types of Mankind," by Dr. Van Evrie. "The Contrast," (poetry.) "The Soul of Music," (poetry.) "The Southern Heroic Dead," (poetry.) "The Condition of the South." "Lesson of the Eighth District of Ohio," by the editor. "A Message from God to Usurpers and Dictators." This Lesson makes one of the most startling pages in the periodical. The Book and Editor's Tables are unusually attractive in this March number, which, all in all, makes up one of the most valuable of the series. The approaching great election renders it necessary that every Democrat should keep well fortified with the sterling truths of our great principles, which alone can save the country.—The monthly reading of THE OLD GUARD will prepare him to fight Mongrelism with weapons which are sure to bring victory. Single copies, 25c.; $3 per year. Van Evrie, Horton & Co., publishers, 162 Nassau street, New York.

THE GALAXY, for March, contains Steven Lawrence, Yeoman, by Mrs. Edwards; John Bright at home, by Richard J. Hinton; Worthless Laurels, by Kate Putnam Osgood, (with an illustration by W. J. Hennessy;) Some celebrated Shrews, by Frank W. Ballard; A Deserted Plantation, by E. B. Seabrook; The Secret History of a Subsidized Organ; The billiard or Sir Ball, By W.; Words and their Uses, by Richard Grant White; Elder Knapp, the Revivalist, by G.; How Lamirande was Caught, by Gaston Fay; Southern Troubles and their Remedy, by James O. Noyes; Semele by E. R. Sill; The manners of the Day, by the Editor; Nebulæ, by the Editor. Price $3 50 a year; 30 cents a number. Especial attention is called to the clubbing terms with other first class Periodicals, by which saving of one-quarter to one-third is realized by subscribers. Address W. C. & F. P. CHURCH, No. 39 Park Row, New York.

THE LADY'S FRIEND, FOR MARCH.—"Diamonds or Hearts; a Halloween Mystery," is the attractive title of the beautiful steel engraving which leads off this number of the "Queen of the Monthlies." This engraving illustrates a story by Eleanor C. Donnelly, which all will want to read. The Fashion Plate is as usual engraved on steel, and colored, and is refined and elegant. This is followed by another engraving called "After the Storm," and by numerous cuts of children's fashions, bonnets, coiffures, mantles, &c., &c. The music for this number is "The Welcome Galop." Among the literary matter we note a story by Mrs. Harriet Prescott Spofford—"The First Theft and the Last;" "A Dead Man's Rule," &c. Price (with engraving) $2,50 a year. Address Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

DEMOREST'S YOUNG AMERICA.—This popular little periodical has been greatly enlarged and improved with the new year. Twice as much reading matter is given as formerly. It is a great favorite with the children, always supplying them with a fund of amusement and instruction, conveyed in an attractive way. Parents can not do better for their children than subscribe for it. Publication Office, 473 Broadway, N. Y. $1.50 yearly, with a premium.

THE NURSERY, for March, has been received, and is full of pleasing and instructive matter for youngest readers, given in the most attractive manner. Subscribe for it and please and entertain your little ones. $1.50 a year in advance. Address John L. Shorey, 13 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

PORTRAIT OF CHARLES DICKENS.—We have received a very elegant impression of a portrait, on steel, of CHARLES DICKENS, a copy of which the Messrs. Appleton & Co., are presenting GRATIS to every subscriber to their new and popular edition of Dickens. It is pronounced by good judges to be the best of the distinguished author yet executed. Any person remitting $4.50 to Appleton & Co., New York, will receive by mail, postpaid, the entire set of Dickens, in seventeen volumes, and the portrait which is suitable for framing, as above. The edition of Dickens is publishing in weekly volumes, seven of which are now ready. A copy of the portrait can be seen at our office, where subscriptions for the book will be received.

Meeting to Sustain the President.

PHILADELPHIA, Feburary 23.—A meeting of democrats of the fourth ward was held to-day. One hundred and seventeen were present by count. the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That inasmuch as a usurping Congress calls itself the people, when in fact Congress is not the people, but the servants of the people, we the citizens of Philadelphia, who value the constitution above all party and party tacits, do solemnly resolve that Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, standing as he does for the constitution and the rights of the people under it, is the true exponent of the feelings of the people, and that we will, if necessary, shoulder our muskets to sustain not Andrew Johnson alone, but the constitution which he sustains with a vigor and truthfulness that challenge our admiration and respect.

Resolved, That this is a white man's government, that must be sustained at all hazzards.

NEWS AND OTHER ITEMS.

—The impoverished condition of Louisiana and Mississiippi has compelled the military authorities to feed the prisoners in the jails and penitentiaries at the expense of the Northern people. At the same time two negro conventions—so-called—have been in session in those States for months, each member of which draws from $10 to $20 a day, exclusive of mileage. Half a million dollars will not suffice to cover the expenses of those conventions. These are some of the beauties of "reconstruction."

—Saunders, the expelled negro member of the Florida menagerie, and Radical candidate for Congress, denounced Satrap Meade, in a speech, the other day, as a "scall wag" and other ugly things. The darkey is probably not far out of the way. He has gone to Washington to lay his grievances at the foot of the throne.

—When the Democracy ruled the country $2,400 was sufficient pay for a member of Congress. Since Radicalism came in the pay has been advanced to $10,000. This makes an additional annual expenditure of about $2,470,000. We hear no Radical talk of economizing in this direction.

—The Springfield (Mass.) Republican, the New York Evening Post, the Brooklyn Union, the New York Times, and the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser refused to support the proposed usurpation of Congress. They raise the standard of revolt against the Military Dictatorship.

—Alexander H. Stevens takes a very despondent view of affairs at the South. He sees nothing in the future but gloom and disaster, and the result of the reconstruction policy will be the destruction of either the black or white race.

—The mayor of St. Louis has vetoed a bill repealing the Sunday liquor law passed by the councils of that city. He says he would sign a bill allowing the billiard saloons to keep open on Sunday.

—One thousand seven hundred and twenty-three infants, who had been thrown away by their parents, were picked up in the streets of New York last year, of which number seven hundred and forty-nine now fill the children's nurseries on Randall's Island.

—The Rhode Island Locomotive Works, located at Providence, have recently received orders for twenty-four locomotives, nineteen having been ordered for the Union Pacific and Central Pacific railroad, and the remainder for Western roads.

—General McClellan has gone to Florence from Vienna, with his wife, whose health requires the change.—The day before his departure he was entertained at dinner by the Archduke Albert.

Fifteen thousand three hundred and fifty-one new buildings were erected in Ohio last year, worth nearly 10,000,000.

—Recently five ladies had their pockets picked while attending a funeral in a private house in Brooklyn, New York.

—$40,000 in counterfeit fractional currency was seized by the police in Chicago, last week, and four alleged counterfeiters were arrested.

QUEER KIND OF RETRENCHMENT.—The Harrisburg Patriot and Union says, radical reform is beginning to develop itself at the State Capitol. We see that the Committee of Ways and Means, of which the economical fanatic from Potter is chairman, have reported additional appropriations for the extension of the Governor's mansion. When the children of the State are crying for bread, and poverty and want visit the hearthstones of many of our people, we are of the opinion that Geary "extensions" should cease. What say you, Mr. Mann—Easton Sentinel.

RADICAL EXTRAVAGANCE.—In 1860 the House at Harrisburg employed 55 officers, and paid them $21,400. The same House, in 1868 employ 98 officers and will pay them $80,280. So says a a Harrisburg correspondent of the Reading Daily Times, a neutral paper. Just think of it—one hundred members and ninety-eight officers! But of such is Radical extravagance made.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FACTS.

That we have unequalled facilities for conducting business to the advantage both of ourselves and patrons, we submit the following TRUTHS—well known as such to the entire business community.

1st. We have abundant cash capital, therefore—
2d. We are enabled to Buy for Cash exclusively, consequently at the lowest possible prices, with the markets of the entire world to select from.
3d. In this particular WE HAVE ADVANTAGES shared by no other house in our business.
4th. We sell for cash exclusively—therefore at the lowest possible prices—having no losses incurred by selling on credit, to provide for.
5th We have a business experience of a quarter of a century, having been longer established than any house in our trade in Philadelphia.
6th. Our business is thoroughly systematized, the result of long experience, which has taught us what the wants of the public are, and how best to meet them.
7th. We employ the best talent in all departments, our garments are therefore unsurpassed in style, fit and workmanship.
8th. Our business is large and constantly increasing, enabling us to keep at all times the largest best assorted, and most complete stock of MEN'S, YOUTHS', and BOYS' CLOTHING in Philadelphia, to which large daily additions are made of fresh goods, replacing those sold.
9th. For reasons already enumerated we can, and do sell clothing in every respect superior—surpassed by none, equalled by few—at prices guaranteed in all cases lower than the the lowest elsewhere, or the sale cancelled and money refunded.
10th. If buyers should for any cause become dissatisfied after a purchase is made, if reported within a reasonable time, we pledge ourselves, by exchange, refunding of money, or otherwise, to give full satisfaction in every case, and request that all such may be reported to us for adjustment.

CARD.—Our stock of Fall and Winter Clothing is full and complete, and selling rapidly, but is as rapidly replenished each day with fresh and desirable styles of new goods, purchased recently, for cash, at great sacrifices, enabling us to sell at prices lower than have been known for years. Congratulating our patrons upon the decline of prices, which enables us to offer superior garments at such low rates, we request the favor of a call.

ADDRESS TO THE NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED whose sufferings have been protracted from hideous causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable. If you are suffering or have suffered from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky, or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits or melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflamed by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also the e they do business with or for.

How many men from badly-cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating and no matter how long standing

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

NOTICE TO DELINQUENTS.—We have placed our books and accounts in the hands of John P. Reed, Esq., of this place, for collection. All accounts for subscription for the year ending August 1, 1868, remaining unpaid, are included in the bills which Mr. Reed is authorized to collect. We have been compelled to resort to this course in order to obtain a settlement of our accounts. We have too much to do to attend to making out bills, and we are tired of dunning. Money we must have, as we have many debts to pay, and we desire to act honestly with our creditors. Therefore, we ask all to pay Mr. Reed, who can, and those who cannot, we ask to call and settle. If there is any thing in their accounts by which they consider themselves aggrieved, let them call on us, and we will make all right that is not right. Friends, let us have the old scores wiped out, and begin anew.

NEW PRESS!—FANCY JOB PRINTING!—Printing in Colors!—Cards, Billheads, Notes, Bank-Checks, Blanks of all kinds, &c., &c.—We have just had set up in our office, one of the latest improved Gorden's Fast Job Presses, and have, also, purchased a new assortment of Fancy Job Type. Thus prepared, we are now able to do all kinds of Job Work, from the daintiest card to the most showy poster. These improvements have cost us considerable outlay, and we now say to our friends and the public, generally, bring on your work, if you appreciate enterprise! We can do any kind of work done in the city offices and just as cheap as city printers do it. Horse-bills printed in all styles. Call at the GAZETTE office, and see our improvements;

"BEDFORD COUNTY PRESS."—We have received a prospectus of the "Bedford County Press" a new paper about to be started at Bloody Run, this county, by J. C. Long & Co. The Press is to be "neutral in politics." The first number of the paper will be issued on the fourth of March, next. We are well acquainted with the projecters of this enterprise, and believe they will be able to make a good paper. We hope they may have much success, and whilst their journal remains truly "neutral in politics," they can always count on our friendship and good wishes.

BORDER LOSSES.—The bill which contemplates payment, by the State, for losses sustained by the border counties during the war has been reported by the committee to which it was referred. We are glad of this. We feared that it might be strangled in the committee. An opportunity will now be presented to the members of the Legislature to put themselves on the record in favor of or against this proposition. We trust that the Democrats in that body will show themselves willing to do justice to the plundered citizens of the border, and let the Radicals shoulder the responsibility of defeating this bill, if it is to be defeated. At any rate, let us have a fair open vote on the bill, so that we can see who are our friends.—Val. Spirit.

RAILROAD MEETING.—The citizens of Bedford county interested in the construction of a railroad through the county, connecting with the Huntingdon and Broad Top Mountain Railroad at Mt. Dallas, and the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad at Bridgeport, are respectfully invited to assemble in the Court House, on next Monday evening, the 2nd of March, for the purpose of recommending to the Legislature the incorporation of a Company for this purpose. MANY.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES.—This being Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, there will be service and preaching, morning and evening. The court room being otherwise occupied, the evening service will be in the basement of the Lutheran Church. There will also be the usual services at the Court House next Sabbath, and in the evening of that day, Rev. Barrow will continue his lectures on the Life of St. Paul. Subject: "Paul before Felix."

"OUR NATIONALITY."—The lecture delivered in the Court House, on Tuesday night of last week, by Rev. H. Heckerman, on the subject of "Our Nationality," was a very able and interesting effort, and was greatly applauded. A resolution was adopted by the audience, requesting a copy of the lecture for publication.

LECTURE.—The next lecture for the benefit of the Cemetery Association, will be delivered in the Court House, on Tuesday, March 3d, by Rev. J. Q. McAtee. Subject, Nova Scotia.

TABLEAUX, &c.—The Ev. Luth. S. S. L. Association, will give an entertainment on Friday and Saturday nights of this week, in the Court House, consisting of tableaux, charades, &c., &c. Those who desire to assist the Association should attend.

NEW MEMBER OF THE BAR.—At the late term of court, John Alsip, Esq., was admitted to the practice of the law in the several courts of this county. Mr. Alsip is one of the best business men in the county, and will make a good lawyer. Success to him always.

$1,000 REWARD.—See Oster & Co's advertisements in another column. They offer the above reward.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Much Snow in the Western End: A Good Deal of Sleighing: Ashcom Decapitateth the Radical leaders in Juniata, etc.

DRY RIDGE, Feb. 21, 1868.

MR. EDITOR:—Thinking you might occasionally like to hear from your friends in this section, I have taken the liberty to write you a few lines, hoping that the same may prove acceptable.

We have had much snow, and, consequently, a good deal of sleighing. Horse-flesh has suffered considerably, and, occasionally, by the accident of an up-set, human flesh has not escaped injury. For instance the other night a party of young fellows were enjoying a sleigh-ride behind a fast horse, and "brought up" against a stump to the great damage of trousers and the bruising of legs.

Quite a flutter among the Radicals of this neighborhood was occasioned a few days ago, by the announcement that Collector C. W. Ashcom had cut off the head of Leonard Bittner, Esq., store-keeper at John Hughes' distillery and appointed in his stead a man by the name of Hammer. Bittner has been one of the leaders of the Radical party in Juniata township, for years, and always stood by his party through good and through evil report. He hails from Somerset county, and comes of a respectable and prosperous stock. He has always been opposed to the Democratic party, and was really the leading spirit of the Radical organization in Juniata tp. Why Ashcom should have made the mistake of decapitating him and appointing another in his stead, puzzles everybody. Perhaps he intended to Hammer somebody. Your friend Jacob Corley, another prominent Radical of Juniata tp., and a worker in the ranks of his party, was an applicant for the store-keepership at L. N. Fyan's distillery. Jacob fared no better than his compeer, Mr. Bittner. If anybody deserved an office at the hands of the Radical party, it was Jacob Corley. But "Republicans" as well as Republics, "are ungrateful."

The snow is rapidly leaving and even the drifts on the "pike" are growing small. To-day a mild south-west wind is blowing, and Spring seems to be almost upon us. Let her come, say I, and the sooner the better.

Yours,
SOLDIER.

THE following is going the rounds of the press, "A rule by which counterfeit greenbacks, or national bank notes can be detected, but lately has been discovered, which upon thorough trial has proved infallible. It is this: Divide the last two figures of the number of the bills by four, if one remains the letter on the genuine will be A. If two remains it will be B; if three remains it will be C. For example; a note is registered 2,611; divide forty-one by four, and you will have one remaining. According to the rule, the letter on the note will be A. In case the rule fails, be certain that the note is counterfeit." Try it.

ECLIPSES.—There will be no eclipse of the moon this year, but there will be two of the sun and of the Radical party. The latter will be visible in all portions of the United States, including the five "military districts," formerly known as the Southern States, some of which were the "original thirteen," for which George Washington and other "traitors" fought seven long years. May the great eclipse speedily come.

"BARRETT'S Vegetable Hair Restorative" took the First Premium over all competitors at the New Hampshire State Fair. It stands confessedly without a rival throughout the country, and is driving all other preparations from the market.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THE "new thing under the sun" of which Solomon doubted, is Phalon's "Flor De Mayo," that rare perfume for the handkerchief. It cannot be described, for there is nothing like it in the whole realm of fragrance. Sold by all druggists.

REGULATOR.—Don't forget Irvine and Statler's Regulator, the place where you get the best and cheapest shoes in town. Glassware, Queensware, Notions, Groceries, &c., are also kept constantly on hand at the Regulator.

A SPLEND STOCK of coats, pants, vest, hats, and a general assortment of gent's furnishing goods, always on hand at R. W. Berkstresser & Co's, for sale at the lowest prices.

A BOQUET IN A SINGLE DROP OF FLUID.—An armful of roses might exhale a more overpowering odor than a single drop of Phalon's "Night Blooming Cereus," but in freshness, delicacy, and pure, healthful fragrance, the drop would far transcend the flowers.—Warsaw Mirror.

ESTEY'S COTTAGE ORGANS are still ahead of all competitors and stand unrivalled in POWER, PURITY OF TONE and BRILLIANCY, and all other points which go to make a first-class instrument.

The "VOX HUMANA TREMOLO" is the greatest of all modern improvements on reed instruments. It CHARMS and SURPRISES all who hear it, by its wonderful resemblance to the HUMAN VOICE. Do not confound this with the common tremolo in use. It is entirely different, and far superior to any other.

For sale wholesale and retail by
E. M. BRUCE,
18 N. Seventh Street, Philadelphia.
☞ Send for descriptive circular and price list.

The effect of your "Tremolo" is entirely new to me, and is certainly the best I ever heard.—GEO. W. MORGAN. [The first Organist of America.

No Tremolo has yet been invented that will in any degree compare with this for beauty of effect. In fact, it seems to me to be absolutely perfect.—WM. A. JOHNSON Pipe Organ Builder.

Estey's Cottage Organs are without a superior for exceedingly quick articulation and round tone—the essential features in instruments of this class.—GEO. JARDINE, Pipe Organ Builder.

The Cottge Organ is the best of its class I ever saw, and the best adapted for church music of any in use.—C. HEINTZ, Organist, Findlay, O.

I am much pleased with the Cottage Organ which I purchased from you; it combines sweetness and power in an unusual degree, and is quite a favorite in our family circle.—BISHOP SIMPSON.

We know no organs of the class which possess so many valuable qualities.—INDEPENDENT.

For the parlor, its sweetness is remarkable; for the church it has a power more organ-like than anything we have seen.—METHODIST.

Persons wishing to purchase an organ are requested to examine the Estey instruments now in use at the Presbyterian and Episcopal Churches, Bedford, Pa. jul26,'67

PROMINENT CHARACTERISTICS.
I.—They are Instructive.
"As purely literary works, these historical romances possess a high degree of merit. They read like genuine histories.—Catholic World.
"They are correct descriptions of the countries and the people described."—Herald.
II.—They are Entertaining.
"We regard these books as among the best and most entertaining novels of the day."—Springfield Republican.
"The reader is at once fascinated and held spellbound until the volume is completed."—Free Press.
"There is no dull chapter in it."—Utica Herald.
III.—They are mirrors of the Times.
"No one can pursue them without conceding the author's great skill in grasping and delineating the characters which figure conspicuously in them.
"The study which enables the author to delineate so accurately the emotions and incentives to action which moved men and women of a past age must be close and untiring, and Louisa Muhlbach shows in all of her works a perfection which carries the reader into the very presence of the characters represented."—Syracuse Journal.
IV.—They are Historically Correct.
"Historically correct, and as entertaining as many of the volumes of Sir Walter Scott."—Providence Herald.
"Louisa Muhlbach must have carefully and diligently studied the secret histories of the times and countries of which she writes, and her task is done well and effectively."—Worcester Spy.
"No Historical Novelist has labored so faithfully and successfully to reproduce a complete picture of past times and events."—Utica Herald.
V.—They are Original.
"It has agreeably surprised readers to find a new writer with such constructive genius and knowledge of character as Louisa Muhlbach possesses."—Public Ledger.
"Each succeeding novel adds to Mrs. Mundt's reputation as a writer of historic fiction.—" N. Y. Times.
VI.—They are full of Imagination.
"She is not only the skilful joiner, but a neat-handed artizan."—Christian Witness.
"There is seldom any straining after effect, but it is really wonderful how Madame Mundt manages to sustain and increase the interest to the end."—City Item.
"The word-painting of the authoress is much more effective than the best efforts of the engraver."—Illinois State Register.
VII.—They Contain Anecdotes of Courts.
"Scottish history offered no fresher and more romantic material to the magic working hand of Sir Walter Scott than she finds in the annals of the German courts."—Evening Gazette.
"There are not to be found anywhere in human annals, unused, such magnificent, such superabundant materials for romance, as clog the chronicles of the Prussian and Austrian courts of the 18th century. By their dress, their manners, their modes of thought, their language, they are almost as much separated from us as if they had lived one thousand years ago."—Observer.
VIII.—They tell about Emperors, Kings, and Queens.
"We learn from her not only how Frederick William and Frederick the Great, Joseph the Second, Voltaire, Rousseau, Baron Trenck, the Empress Catherine, walked and talked in their grand roles, but how they powdered their, hair, flirted, and took tea."—Register.
"The choice of her subjects exhibits her genius She takes the time of Frederick the Great, Joseph the Second, for example, and upon the background of facts which the chronicles of the periods affords, she embroiders the bright and sombre colors, the light and shades of her fiction, with the skill of a consummate artist."—The Eagle.
IX.—The Style is Interesting.
"The style of this writer for purity, perspicuity, and elegance, is something greatly to be commended. It is free from imitations, mannerisms, and tricks of every kind."—The Argus.
"The translations do justice to the vivid, piquant style of the original; and the story is full of movement and crowded with instructive and entertaining incident."—The Chicago Post.
"The interest of the book does not depend upon its characters nor its incidents, nor yet on its charming style, but on its general harmony of composition."—Day Book.
X.—Everybody is Reading them.
"Our people seem to have stopped reading French novels, and English works are complained of as dull. Miss Muhlbach precisely supplies the public want.
"The novels of Clara Mundt are being read by every one."—Times.
"Muhlbach's novels have a world-wide reputation, and are read with avidity, as fast as issued from the press."—Springfield Republican.
"They are winning a wide and deserved popularity in this country."—State Journal.

MEDICAL.—DR. A. S. SMITH, having resumed the Practice of Medicine, solicits a generous share of the patronage of the community. Office in his residence, at St Clairsville.
He would call the attention of the public, and to those more immediately interested to the following: His health being too delicate to bear much of the fatigues and exposures consequent on general practice, he has adopted a speciality in the profession.
Soon after commencing practice, some twenty years since, he was attracted by the almost universality of female complaints, both in the married and single state. Partly from natural inclination, and in order to obtain success in practice, these complaints were made the subject of incessant study. These alterations, displacements and deranged functions of the organs peculiar to the female, are owing to that refined sense of delicacy on the part of the female, who, ignorant of the consequences, prefers to suffer in silence rather than expose her situation. Seldom cured by the general practitioner, who is prevented by this delicacy from acquiring by experience that tact and skill necessary to discriminate the exact change present, and contents himself with prescribing for the deranged functions, or overlooking the cause, simply for attendant nervous disorders, founding his prescriptions on a Plethoric Anaemonic state of the general system and the result is no benefit, as the number of the long suffering females bears ample testimony. Believing that he has, from long and special attention paid to them, acquired that skill in discriminating and experience in treating, he solicits the suffering to give him a call. No charges for consultation or examination. Visits made to all parts of the county. Applications for medicines can be made in writing by accompanying stamp for return letter.—Medicines sent when desired. TERMS invariably cash for all medicines and instruments.

THE GREAT CAUSE OF HUMAN MISERY. Just Published, in a Sealed Envelope.—Price six cents.
A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical cure of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits, resulting from self-Indulgence or Sexual extravagance, &c.—By ROB J. CULVERWELL, M. D., Author of the "Green Book, &c.
The world-renowned author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of Self-Abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. THIS LECTURE WILL PROVE A BOON TO THOUSANDS AND THOUSANDS.
Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents. Address the publishers,

Publications.

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requisite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with conscientious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interest, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of THE WORLD for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. THE WORLD will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. THE WORLD adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, THE WORLD will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thanks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of THE WORLD, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, THE WORLD will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the THE WORLD prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The WEEKLY WORLD, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York ARGUS has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. Published Wednesday.
1. Its Market Reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Country Produce and General Prices Markets; special and valuable Hop Intelligence; a department of Agricultural Reading; all together composing an unrivalled handbook of current information for the Farmer, Live Stock or Produce Dealer, Country Merchant, &c.
2. A page or more reserved for entertaining Fireside Reading for the Family circle, embracing the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Religious Reading, etc., and a page for the Discussion of all Prominent Topics of general interest, political agricultural, financial, literary, etc.
3. Its Digest of the News is not, like most weeklies, a mere waste-basket of the Daily; only matters of interest and importance are chosen from the Daily, while the mass of its contents are prepared especially for the Weekly.
In every postoffice district there should be found some active, public spirited Democrat, who will confer a benefit upon us, his neighbors, and the cause, by counseling with his Democratic friends and making a determined effort to form as large a club as possible for the WEEKLY WORLD.
The SEMI-WEEKLY WORLD is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, which, by omitting a great mass of city advertisements from the Daily, contains all its news, correspondence, editorials, commercial and market news cattle market and provision reports, and a fresh and entertaining miscellany of literature. Published Tuesday and Friday.
The DAILY WORLD affords a complete compendium of, and comm
